

Drawings Will Continue Until End of Month

Clay Cooper, chairman of the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce, called an emergency meeting last week to determine whether or not weekly drawings should be continued. A complaint had been made concerning the weekly drawings.

The committeemen gathered at the Chamber of Commerce office at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. They discussed the question of the drawings for one hour, Manager Roland Black said.

They decided to continue the drawings as the person voicing the complaint did not appear before the group. Neither was there a written complaint made in connection with the drawings, so the drawings will be continued at least until further developments in the case.

Drawings were held during the Christmas holidays and then were stopped for two months. When they were revived, they were held once a month instead of weekly. During these drawings the total purse was $250. When the merchants decided to hold the drawings each Saturday instead of monthly they reduced the purse to $150. Saturday was the second time the weekly drawings were conducted since being changed from monthly to weekly.

Oscar Parson, who worked for Randall County on road maintenance for many years, died suddenly in San Diego, Calif., Saturday morning of a heart attack. He was 56 years of age.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Virgie Parson; one son, Kenneth Charles, 6, and one daughter, Dollie Dean, 10; three brothers, Bob and Jack of Canyon, and W. Bob and Jack, Mrs. Hardaway, Mrs. Cook, and Mrs. King have gone to attend the funeral.

Burial will be in Memorial Place in San Diego.

Mr. Parsons was a veteran of World War I. He has been away from Canyon approximately three years. After leaving Canyon he worked for Deaf Smith County and later moved to California.

Fire Destroys Two Barns Friday a. m.

Two Canyon fire trucks were on their way to the scene of a blaze on a farm about 3 1/2 miles northwest of Umbarger about ten minutes after the alarm was given at 1 o'clock Friday morning. The fire destroyed two barns and killed two calves. It was the farm of Albert Fischbacher and the fire was noticed by another farmer who had been irrigating his crops until midnight.

The alarm was not sounded here until 1 o'clock. The firemen had two trucks on the road to the fire by 1:10. They were too late to save any part of the burning buildings. The firemen returned home after making sure there was no further danger of the fire's spreading.

Drunk Man and Jury Keep Sheriff Busy

Sheriff L. S. Johnston said Monday "Parents should consistently warn their children against becoming friendly with strangers." The warning was given after an arrest had been made in connection with an elderly man who had exposed himself to a 5-year-old girl.

The arrest of the offender was made Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock. The complaint was made by way of telephone and Deputy Sheriff Lem Pounds went in search of the offender.

Sheriff Johnston was busy Monday getting out notices to men to appear for petit jury next Tuesday. All notices were reported as being mailed out before 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. A total of 24 men were notified to appear for jury duty.

Well Known News Man Died Sunday

Van W. Stewart of Perryton died Sunday morning at 3:30 o'clock following a heart attack.

Mr. Stewart was one of the best known newspaper men of the upper Panhandle. He has been publisher of the Ochiltree County Herald since the paper was founded.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist Church, with Rev. H. L. Thurston, former pastor, in charge.

Milton Myers, J. M. Black, and M. B. Brown left Saturday morning for a fishing trip near Tucumcari, New Mexico.

HEAR 'EM HOLLER

We, Democrats, Up in Arms

Hear us holler. The Democrats are leading the parade against the administration of President Eisenhower. This in spite of the fact that the President is doing exactly what he said he would do—cut taxes and reduce the running expenses of the government.

A number of employees of a government agency in Amarillo will be cut off. The people up that way are hollering.

They voted for Eisenhower, but they thought that they would be able to hold all of their government jobs.

Farm prices have declined 10%. The farmers generally supported the President, and expected a cut. When it came, they are hollering.

Democrats are making the most of the situation, looking toward 1954 when all members of the House will be up for re-election.

Conley's Mother Seeks Custody of Disputed Child

The mother of Louis Bob Conley of Amarillo filed a court order in County Court for guardianship of Lynette Conley, 8-year-old daughter of Louis. The hearing for guardianship is to come up Monday, May 25, and if there is no one present to contest the case it is expected that guardianship of Lynette will be given Mrs. Conley until Lynette is 21, or until she marries, dies, or the guardianship is terminated by court order.

The court order states that Lynette's mother had not contributed to the child's support, had neither telephoned, telegraphed, written neither card nor letter in the past five years. It mentions that the mother had not given the child a Christmas present during this time.

At the present time Louis Bob Conley is being held in a Brockton, Mass., court for contempt of court because of his refusal to return Lynette to her mother. He has been in jail nearly three years on a series of contempt charges in connection with the divorce and custody case.

Drive for Cancer Fund $172 Short

O. W. (Bud) Parker, chairman of the local Cancer Fund Drive, said Tuesday that the drive only lacked $172 having its quota filled. All of the diminishing coffee party goers had not reported at that time, Parker said. He felt that more money would be needed to complete the quota and sought a general fund drive to make up this difference.

Mr. Parker said contributions could be mailed by simply addressing them to "Cancer Fund," in care of the local postmaster.

"Cancer is one of the blights of our civilization. Last year more than 8,500 Texans died of cancer, and in the United States cancer accounted for a total of 220,000 deaths. Research money is needed to stop this deadly disease," said Mr. Parker.

Groups To Hold School Meeting

Citizens committees which have been studying the Canyon schools have finished their work and will have their final meeting Tuesday night, May 19, in the high school cafeteria. All members of the five committees that have been engaged in the study are urged to attend this meeting and any other person who is interested is invited to attend and participate in the discussions.

Study of the school situation has been going on for the past three months and the various committees will make summary reports to the gathering Tuesday night.

The meeting has been called for 8 p. m.

First National Is Named Depository

The First National Bank in Canyon was selected as depository of Randall county at the session of the court last month.

Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Alexander spent Sunday in Dimmitt with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hershey.

Clean Up Decree by the C-C Officials

Next Monday is the beginning of Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week and the Chamber of Commerce is urging everyone to get in on the drive. This drive is a sort of general spring cleaning in which vacant lots and unpainted fences get into the picture.

The weeds on vacant lots and backyards should be cut as an aid to polio prevention. It has also been pointed out that many different insects flourish in the tall weeds on vacant lots.

In addition to making the town more healthful the drive is to help make the town look better. That shanty-town appearance is given by unpainted fences that are broken and often have long sections laying on the ground. It's an asset to the town to keep the fences up and painted, the lawns mowed and trimmed, and the vacant lots and backyards free from excessive vegetation such as tall weeds.

The local Chamber of Commerce, health officials, civic leaders, and city officials seek the cooperation of the public in this clean-up, paint-up, fix-up drive. It is a step in which everyone is encouraged to protect itself against unnecessary chances of contracting diseases and at the same time give the town a fresh, well-kept look.

Highway North Is Rejected

The Commissioners Court has rejected the plan of the State Highway Commission to build a new highway north from the Senator Grady Hazlewood farm to the junction with Highway 60, just west of the Veterans Hospital.

The court takes the position that the route would be of little or no benefit to the residents of Randall county since it would divert traffic to Northeast 8th in Amarillo, which is already overcrowded.

The expense of the right-of-way because of improvements along the present highway was another cause for the rejection.

The court is not taking a position opposed to the four-lane highway, but believes that any diversion of traffic should be south of Amarillo rather than in the north part of Amarillo.

Newton Harrell Viewed Tragedy Of Waco Storm

Newton Harrell arrived in Waco a few minutes after the tornado hit Waco Monday evening and saw the terrible destruction which was brought to that city. He spent the night in the heart of the storm stricken city, arriving here Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Harrell says that he was riding a bus, and a heavy rain was falling as he entered Waco. The rain was falling with such force that passengers could scarcely see.

The storm centered in the heart of the business section and great damage was seen on every hand.

Wow! Cold Weather Drops Temperature

Following high temperature over the week-end, the wind shifted to the north Monday and the temperature dropped to 40 degrees. It stood at 34 degree this morning, which sets a new low record for the 13th of May.

The weatherman says that the cold will continue until Thursday afternoon, but no moisture is promised for this area.

Coleman Speaker Talks on Padgitt

Col. James T. Padgitt of Coleman brought the closing message of the 32nd Annual Banquet of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Friday night. Introduced by Col. T. H. McDonald, Mr. Padgitt gave an interesting study of "The Padgitt Brothers and Saddle Leather."

Colonel Padgitt served as commander of Company F from Canyon during the invasion of Italy during World War II. Colonel McDonald was his personal friend throughout the campaign.

The speaker traced the development of the saddle and leather industry in Texas from the time that his grandfather, James Padgitt, moved to Texas from Tennessee in 1854.

The brothers started as apprentices in Houston and followed the development of Texas as the railroad built north, furnishing saddles, harness and other leather products to the construction crews.

One of the Padgitts located in Waco and two brothers pushed on to Dallas. The wonderful business which they have built and established is now in younger hands.

During the days of Buffalo Bill, Padgitt furnished all of the saddles for the famous show. A new idea arose, Padgitt changed to meet the occasion. During the war thousands of medical pack saddles were built for the armed forces.

S. B. Whittenburg, retiring president, was toastmaster.

The Strings Alamode, dinner music ensemble, under the direction of Lewis Stoelzing, furnished music.

New Court House Plan Is Projected

Randall county may start plans soon toward building a new court house in Canyon. Bill Townes, architect from Amarillo, met with the Court Monday and offered his services in case the project is taken up.

The present building lacks much of being fireproof. According to authorities now is the best time in many years for big construction, such as court houses and schools.

American Heritage Sent Randall Plaque

County Clerk T. H. Lair has received a plaque from the American Heritage Foundation, for the large vote cast in Randall county last year in the presidential election.

The poor fellows working at the point of the air rifle, from left to right, are E. M. ## Canyon Nine Tips Claude 16-13

The Canyon baseball team defeated the Claude team Sunday in the third round of the Caprock League play. The score was 16-13 and the game was played here in Canyon.

Winning pitcher was Monk Ford. Besides going the distance on the mound, Monk hit a home run for Canyon. It was the only one the home town boys collected all day.

Claude's losing pitcher was Bartnette. He was relieved in the second inning by Brennan.

Sunday's victory places Canyon at one win and two losses. Next Sunday's game will be with the Groom team at Groom.

Slogan Deadline Extended by C-C

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce has extended the deadline for its slogan contest until midnight, May 20. Originally the contest was slated to end on midnight tonight until the extension was decided upon.

Main reason for the extension was for the Chamber to get out some printed forms for folks to use in submitting their entries.

The slogan is to be no more than ten words in length and should be something to attract people to Canyon. Roland Black, Chamber of Commerce manager, said what was being sought was a catchy slogan that briefly describes the town.

There are two prizes to be given. First prize will be $10 and second prize will be $5.

Edna Graham Meets American Soldier in City of Copenhagen

Miss Edna Graham, now traveling in Europe, recently wrote home from Copenhagen, Denmark, of an interesting chance meeting with an American soldier. She and the soldier got into a conversation just before leaving their train and getting on a ferry.

She wrote that the soldier first tried talking in awkward, broken German. When she spoke in English and pointed out that he was American and asked him to speak in English, the soldier registered both surprise and delight.

As it turned out, he was from Tennessee and Miss Graham's voice was the first Southern voice he had heard in about two years. Miss Graham wrote that he almost grabbed her with delight. Later they had breakfast together and got seats in the same compartment.

The sergeant told Miss Graham that she couldn't know the happiness he felt at being able to talk to a woman from the South after such a long time.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

"No Compromise" Attitude May Have Defeated Salary Bopst

"No compromise" lost for the teachers of Texas an increase in salary.

J. O. Gillham of Brownfield, formerly of Wayside and Canyon, and a former student of West Texas State, is a member of the House. He writes that he made no promises of increase in salary for the teachers. He voted for an increase of $300 in teachers' salaries because he knew that the $600 bill would be rejected by the State Comptroller.

When the spokesman for the teachers announced the "no compromise" policy the teachers lost out, is the opinion not only of Mr. Gillham, but scores of others who truly wanted to see the teachers get a raise, but knew that there was not enough money to pay the $600 bill. Perhaps many members of the House took the attitude that they could safely support the $600 measure in view of the fact that the Senate had approved such a bill; and the Comptroller was certain to reject it.

As we stated early in the session of the legislature, the lawmakers placed too much power in the hands of one man, the Comptroller, to whom it entrusted the finances of Texas. Perhaps the lawmakers thought that the membership could not be trusted to look after the financial welfare of the state.

We cannot keep from remembering that when the legislature met the Comptroller put out rosy statements as to the potential balances of the state. But as soon as appropriations were up for consideration he changed his mind about the resources of Texas.

When was he in error: In January or in May? What will be his prediction after the session adjourns?

Jury Service Is Unequal Is Claim of Randall Farmer

A citizen of Randall county complains that he has lived in Randall county for two years; and has been called for jury service four times. The writer says that he knows of men who have been called for jury service 12 times in the past four years.

The writer says that he knows of men who have lived in Randall county for many years and have never been called for jury service. He wants to know why this situation.

Frankly we have no answer. We have serviced twice on Jury Commissions, where men are called for jury service. We know it to be a fact that too often jury lists of the past year were virtually copied, and the names of men who have served before are called again; while the names of men who have never served are neglected.

Maybe that is the reason why this man had been called for service four times in two years; that some of his neighbors had been called as many as 12 times; while other good men of his community had never been called.

This is something for the courts to dig into and see what can be done about the situation.

Reader Intelligence . . . .

"Publishers of newspapers and magazines miss the boat when they cut out jokes, or refuse to publish a lot of humor," stated a newspaper man the other day. "Just look at the kids gathered around the comic book stand in any store and you will see the answer," was his reply.

"Has reader intelligence declined?" he was asked. His reply was characteristic of the age. Folks want entertainment. The joke is the easier way to entertain.

Folks enjoy good humor. The best joke teller of this age tells a lot of jokes on himself. The speech without humor is a dry affair.

We are not inclined to believe that the intelligence of the readers has declined to a point where it is required that filthy jokes should monopolize the conversation. Good jokes and filthy jokes are as far apart as the two poles.

Bank Deposits Declined . . .

Bank deposits throughout the nation show a decline from the call of December 31st, 1952. This is not surprising. The surprising fact is that bank deposits have held up as well as they have.

Uncle Sam hit the jackpot with his call for income taxes; the decline in the cattle market has wiped out the savings of many cattlemen; while the general drouth has hit rich and poor alike.

Don't get excited about bank deposits. These deposits reflect pretty well the condition of the community in which the bank is situated. When Uncle Sam calls upon the people of the community for income taxes, these must be paid, and therefore the banks put up the money for such payment.

The same is true of all other deposits and expenses.

A. M. Jackson Sells Paper . . .

Heart trouble has caused A. M. Jackson to sell the Slaton Slatonite and retire from the business which he bought several years ago. Jackson was a member of the Amarillo News staff when he took over the Slatonite. He has made a wonderful success in building up the business and in improving his town.

Francis Perry of Dublin has bought the Slatonite and will move to that South Plains town in a few weeks. The best wishes of fellow newspaper men of this area are extended.

Foreign Trade Works Two Ways

Foreign trade is a two-way street. If we are to have foreign markets, we must buy foreign goods. It is fine to say that we buy only American manufactured items. But when we admit that we stand alone for America, we are rather apt to find in the long run that we shall be standing alone, with nothing on which to do business.

Every nation has some raw material or manufactured items which we need.

Yet we raise the price on all of these items or materials through our high tariff.

Most people are ready to get the highest price they can for what they sell and beef loudly about high prices they have to pay.

Baseball managers are now beginning to realize that their optimistic predictions might have been optimistic.

So far as the history of journalism is concerned, no editorial has ever reformed human nature.

Democratic Support of President Eisenhower Fools Republicans

We are advised that Republican leadership is somewhat embarrassed by the following which President Eisenhower is receiving from the Democrats of the nation.

The time was when GOP thought the party owned Eisenhower. The leaders of this party have refused to admit—although they know the truth of the statement—that the Democrats elected Eisenhower; have confidence in the ability of the President; and will stand by him so long as he is President of all the nation, and not the tool of the Republican party.

Just what will happen when the voters go to the polls in 1954?

Our crystal ball does not reveal. We are not a prophet or the son of a prophet. What happens between now and election time in 1954 will tell the story.

President Eisenhower is trying to be the President of all the people. Perhaps there are many who refuse to allow him to continue to be President of all the nation. Some folks would like to see the rule of the Republican party restored while others would prefer to see the Democratic party returned to power.

The only thing that we are sure of at this time is that the people who elected Eisenhower—including a vast number of Democrats—are well convinced that they made no mistakes; and that they will try to strengthen his hold on Congress in 1954.

What will happen in the meanwhile?

Your guess is as good as the next person's.

Clean Up Day Scheduled Soon For All Citizens of Canyon

The bug has bitten; and we hope that the bite will go deep.

Canyon has a Clean Up Campaign in the making. The Chamber of Commerce announces that every citizen of Canyon who wants to see Canyon a better and cleaner town should get busy on Clean Up Day, and put in some real licks for Canyon.

We recall the Clean Up Campaigns of other years when every business house in Canyon closed down for the campaigns; that every citizen went to work. The schools closed and the students in the college as well as the pupils in the first grade went to work.

Canyon is not quite so filthy now as then, we are told, but there is plenty of work for everyone.

Get busy, all citizens of Canyon! Follow the instructions of our leaders in the Chamber of Commerce, and let's clean up the town.

What About Your Memory . . .

How good is your memory?

The Ford Motor Company is celebrating its 50th Anniversary. During the years that Ford has been in existence a lot of cars have been manufactured, but passed out of the picture.

How many of these can you remember?

Read the list and see how 58 manufacturers have failed in their attempt to bring economical transportation to the people:

The Apperson Jackrabbit, Allen, Auburn Beauty Six, Busch, Case, Cleveland, Cole, Cord, Crowe, Chandler, Liberty-Busch, Chalmers, Dart, Dusenbury, Dort, EMF, Essex, Franklin, Hupmobile, Jackson, Locomobile, Jordan, Maxwell, Kissel, Mercer, Krit, Metz, Lone Star, Moon, Pierce-Arrow, Mormon, Page, Oakland, Overland, Premier, Ranger, Rambler, Saxon, Stanley Steamer, Star, Stearns-Knight, Scripps-Booth, Stutz Bearcat, Stoddard-Dayton, Texan, Mitchell, Velie, Marquette, Sinton, Warren Detroit, Willis-St. Claire, Willis-Knight, White, White Steamer, Lozier, Marion-Hanley, Leach Builtwell, V-Eight Peerless.

Little Peron About Finished . . .

The once big, mighty, powerful Peron has turned out to be the little, dwarfed, cynical, grasping individual who thinks no more of the common man than any other dictator.

He gained power by crushing the big men of his country for the benefit of the little men.

The tragedy is that when the one big man falls, thousands of little men go down with him.

Peron closed the biggest daily newspaper in the Hemisphere simply because it refused to bow down to the dictator. Hundreds of men and women were thrown out of jobs.

Peron promised to bring prices down, but prices continued to rise and producers of food refused to sell at his prices.

Peron is faced with the same problem that confronts all little men who are placed in big jobs. He is a failure, and one of these days he will be crushed by the weight of his own political machine.

Days To Remember . . .

"I presume that you feel pretty let down this afternoon," remarked a Canyon reader last Wednesday afternoon. The paper was in the post office, and the publisher was on a shopping trip.

"No such a thing as a let-down these days," was the response. "About half of the editorials for next week have been written, and therefore I must get back to the typewriter."

The reader then recalled the good old days when her father published a weekly newspaper in a neighboring town. The all night job of printing the paper; what a relief there was when the job was finished.

Times have changed in this good old world of ours. New machinery and new methods make the difference.

We wish the wheels of time might be turned back—just a little—so that we might have more time for more jobs.

Narrow-minded people sometimes limit the amount of intellectual progress that can be made in a community.

Tolerance is sometimes confused with the idea that the majority should not exert its rights.

Every great newspaper must have good reporters who express no opinion in their columns.

Why not plan a vacation trip that will enable you to see some of your own country?

Despite the story, every boy cannot become President of the United States.

We have never been able to figure out the strange fascination borrowed money has for some people.

Canyon FFA Team Places Fifth

The Canyon Future Farmer Dairy Cattle team of Norman Tuck, Jimmie Kuhlman, and Edward Hinders, placed 5th in the 35th Annual Future Farmer State Judging Contest at Texas A. and M. College Saturday. Jimmy Kuhlman was third individual contestant out of well over 300 Future Farmers. The team was coached by T. L. Devin and Waylon Carroll, teachers of Vocational Agriculture in the Canyon High School.

A writer of books has hectic experiences—especially, right after his book comes off the press. For example when "City of Flaming Adventure" appeared several years ago, Joe Naylor, the publisher, really had a "day" lined up for the author.

It was during the San Antonio Fiesta—the book is a history of San Antonio—and to start the day, Joe had lined up a radio interview for me, then a presentation of copies to Chamber of Commerce officials while photographers flashed bulbs; then a luncheon with Fiesta officials and, after that, an hour and a half of autographing at Joske's.

Then there were some 1—Then there was some relaxation: seeing the impressive pilgrimage of flowers to the Alamo, wreaths and bouquets borne by marching school children; a wonderful dinner at the historic Menger; viewing the pageant on the San Antonio river.

At midnight, at the reception for King Antonio, a copy of "City of Flaming Adventure" was presented to that "monarch."

After a day as crowded as that, a fellow can't start writing on another book till he's had a rest.

A candidate for the legislature in the 1952 campaign had an unusual piece of campaign literature. In the space where usually the candidate's photo would have appeared was the statement, "Take my word for it, I have an honest face."

Fast thinking: A soothsayer had become the king's most trusted adviser. The other courtiers plotted and the leader said, "Oh, king, if this man can foretell the future, ask him when he will die." So the ruler asked the question. As the king had absolute power of life and death over his subjects, the soothsayer's enemies felt that any answer he gave would be wrong, if the king so willed. But the sage smiled and blandly replied, "Your majesty, I will die the day before you do."

The king saw to it, that the soothsayer's welfare was looked after most carefully.

Who Is Owner of "The Mystery Farm" of This Week?

Can you identify this farm home? It's number eight in the files of photographs of local farm and ranch homes being run by the News. Many people know the general area about Canyon when driving in a car but from a plane the places look a bit different. The identification photos being run weekly in the News were all taken from the air. There's a free gloss photograph of this farm waiting at the News for the owner. All he has to do is call at the News office and identify the farm and get the picture.

NOT YET

A soldier made the mistake of getting too close to the rear of an army mule. His buddies caught him on the bounce, placed him on a stretcher and started for the hospital.

On the way the soldier regained consciousness, gazed at the sky and felt the swaying motion of the stretcher. Weakly, he lowered his hands over the side to find nothing but space.

"Migosh," he groaned, "I haven't hit ground yet."

GRAMMAR'S BUSY

Little Oscar's schoolteacher went to visit his parents. She rang the doorbell and Oscar answered.

"Are your mother and father in?" she asked.

"They was in but they is out."

"Oscar! They was—they is out! Where's your grammar?"

"She's upstairs taking a bath."

Richard B. Russell, U. S. Senator from Georgia: "It would be a tragic mistake to allow the cessation of hostilities in Korea to lull us into a false sense of security."

Wives tend to take good husbands for granted. They get so used to little kindnesses, to having "bossing" understood as "petting," and so on, that they sort of forget how they may appear to strangers.

That's why it's good, once in awhile, to have as overnight guest a man who knows the spouse well, but knows his wife hardly at all.

It really puts her on her mettle. Here's a man of about her husband's age, who has probably visualized what his friend's wife would look like (does she measure up, or is he disappointed?). He has a wife of his own and can just about figure the domestic picture over morning coffee (is she a good enough cook?). He's a little homesick for his own family as bedtime draws near, and begins to make comparisons (does he feel sorry for his friend?).

The wife looks at herself critically, probably for the first time since the last house guest months ago: Does this stranger wonder why the spouse married me? Do I know too little, too much about my husband's work? Am I fat and dowdy? Skinny and sharp?

For a whole week then she mends his socks, looks to the buttons on his shirts, straightens his closet, turns down his bed. For a whole week, she laughs at his jokes and takes care not to nag. Then it all blows over and life settles back into its comfortable pattern.

If good husbands could only see what happens inside good wives' minds when they import such an overnight guest, they'd never have another worry about keeping them in line. All a man has to do is be sure that he is a good husband — and that he's got a good wife!

Dwight D. Eisenhower: "Each and all must remind themselves that the faint of heart, and the slow of deed are the first and the surest to invite the torment of aggression."

Martin Gumpert, M. D., expert in geriatrics: "Retirement should be prepared for, or, replace former jobs. We should retire to, not from, life."

A.A.U.W. Meets At Cousins Hall

The Canyon A.A.U.W. had its 25th annual reception honoring the high school and college senior girls last Monday night in the reception hall of Cousins Hall.

More than 50 girls were received by Mrs. Margaret Barnhill, Mrs. Linnie Harter, Dr. Vera R. Maxwell, Miss Ruth Cross, Mrs. Dan Sanders, and Mrs. Margaret Devin.

The serving table was laid with a Chinese hand-made lace dinner cloth over blue, and centered with an arrangement of blue iris and yellow tulips flanked by blue tapers. The appointments were of crystal. Mrs. T. B. McCarter, Dr. Ruth Lowes, and Dr. Hattie M. Anderson presided at the serving table. Background music was played by Miss Matilda Gaume.

Dr. Vera R. Maxwell, state president of AAUW, talked to the members and guests on the history of AAUW and its purpose and benefits for the graduate women.

ARMY CHAPLAINS

The 1400 Army chaplains conducted 292,000 religious services during 1952, with attendance estimated at 15,488,000. Civilian clergymen — acting as auxiliary chaplains to insure adequate denominational coverage — conducted 26,500 services, with a recorded attendance of 1,787,238. The chaplains also officiated at 9,698 marriages and 10,528 baptisms.

WAR DEAD

Death in battle among U. S. soldiers in Korea occurs at an earlier age than in World War II, according to statistics compiled by insurance officials. Twenty-seven per cent of the battle deaths among the policy-holders was at ages under 20, which is more than twice the proportion at these ages in World War II, and only 17 per cent was at ages 25 and over, compared with 40 per cent in World War II.

SOME DUE

"How kind of you," said the girl, "to bring me these lovely flowers. They are so beautiful and fresh. I believe there is some dew on them yet."

"Yes," stammered the young man in great embarrassment, "but I am going to pay it off tomorrow."

Mothers Honored In Assembly Sponsored By Alpha Sigma Xi

Mothers were honored here at West Texas State College Thursday in a special assembly program sponsored by Alpha Sigma Xi, campus social fraternity.

Special recognition went to Mrs. Jim Graves of Post, who traveled farthest to attend the program; to Mrs. Bryan McDonald, Canyon, as the mother with the most children attending WT; and to Mrs. B. L. Cox, Pampa, as the oldest mother here for the day.

A short talk on Mother's Day was given by Curtis Tunnell, sophomore student from Turkey, and Bruce Cook, Kirkland, president of the fraternity, made the awards.

The West Texas State A Cappella Choir, directed by Dr. Houston Bright, sang five selections, including Bright's "Evening Song of the Weary" and "Never Tell Thy Love," Bach's "O Rejoice Ye Christians, Loudly," Victoria's "Jesu, Duccia Memoria," and Olson's "Alleluia Chorus."

Recognition was given to Troy Burrus, Buffalo basketball player, who was recently named to the NAIA All-America Team, and to Miss Jane Keen, Higgins, who recently won the title of "Miss Teacher of Tomorrow of Texas" in a state-wide contest.

Plans Are Made For Cinder Track

Plans for the construction of a cinder track were announced at West Texas State this week by Hatcher Brown, newly appointed track coach. The new track will be the first step in a movement by the college to make track at the school a strong and major sport.

"The new track will be ready for use next spring," Brown said in the announcement. "Most of the work will be done late this summer," he added.

Aside from putting down the cinder track, new curbing will be run on both ends and on the east side of the present oval. Curbs will be placed on inside and outside with appropriate markings for the different events. When completed the track will have nine running lanes.

Another move in the making of track a major sport at West Texas State is the plan of moving spring football drills from the April-May sessions to January-February dates. This move will benefit football boys desiring to run in track.

"We are not ready to talk to any boy interested in doing track work at West Texas State," Brown said. "I believe we have the nucleus of a fine track squad and can build it into one of the better track teams in this section of the country."

Mary G. Roebling, banking official: "Women in business are not a 'challenge' to men, rather women are an effective part of the team, which can form an unbeatable combination."

Eric Johnston, president, Motion Picture Association of America: "America is living in the biggest goldfish bowl of all time and the eyes of the world are on us."

Archibald MacLeish, former Librarian of Congress: "The United States is the one effective defender of personal liberty left on earth."

ON A DIET

A man was introduced to a circus sword swallower. Not having seen a sword swallower before, he asked him to demonstrate his art, whereupon the fellow apparently swallowed some pins and needles.

"But," protested the man, "those aren't swords—they're pins and needles."

"I know," was the reply. "I'm on a diet."

Charles F. McCahill, retiring president, American Newspaper Publishers' Association: "The newspapers' responsibility is to report the facts in its news columns and its own analyses and interpretations belong on the editorial page."

A COMPLICATED ART

"Anyone can write a song," said the man from New York.

"Well, then, what's my problem?" asked the musical cousin.

"Your problem," sighed the man who knew, "is to find a band or an orchestra or a pretty blonde with a voice who will convince a publisher that the song will make such a hit they'll make juke box records of the number."

Waiter — How did you find your steak, sir?

Diner — It was just luck. I happened to move that piece of potato and there it was.

During the week of February 12, 1915, steel was received and plans were continued to proceed with the rebuilding of West Texas State College which was destroyed by fire in 1914.

One of the problems which faced the people of Canyon and Randall County in 1915 was that of building a new jail or improving the old one.

The Potter and Randall County kafir and maize club bestowed top honors on the boys and girls of Randall County in 1914.

Biggest news of 1914 was the beginning of World War I in Europe.

Farms in this vicinity produced 60 bushels of maize and 45 bushels of feterita per acre in 1914.

Randall County hogs topped the Fort Worth market in the show of December, 1914.

In 1915 the farm land in Randall County was selling for as low as $20 per acre.

Whiskey is No Cure For Snake Bite Says Medical Profession

"Lay that whiskey down, babe" if you've got it in mind for snake bite. Whiskey speeds the flow of blood, increasing the spread of poison through the body, and depresses the part of the brain already slowed down by the venom.

If there are only surface scratches and no swelling, discoloration, or general reaction, the snake probably nonpoisonous, and the bite should be treated like a scratch. But—if there are fang marks (puncture points), pain, swelling, and a purple color, or faintness or other general disturbance, call a doctor and give first aid as follows:

Sterilize a knife or razor blade.
Apply a band just above the bite, apply alcohol to the region around it, and make a cross cut about one-fourth inch deep in the skin over each fang mark. With a sharp razor blade, draw the venom with a suction cup, or with small glasses having a diameter of from 1 1/2 to 2 inches in the following manner:

Moisten the bite area with water, cold cream, or petroleum jelly. Light a small scrap of paper, drop it into the bottom of a glass, and allow it to burn a moment, then dump the burning paper into a pan of water. Press the mouth of the glass over the bite area until the cooling air starts suction; leave it in place a few minutes, while preparing another glass to replace it. Continue suction until considerable fluid has been recovered or until the doctor arrives.

Once rabies develops in man, it is fatal. Too many people still fail to realize the possible seriousness of dog bite, or the bites of other animals like cats, squirrels, and skunks. Because the animal may be rabid, it should be captured and penned up for a ten day observation period, if at all possible. The wound should be washed with soap and water to remove all saliva, and the doctor called immediately. He will decide what further steps should be taken.

Victims of the heat require quick treatment. With heat stroke (or sunstroke) the patient has a hot, dry skin; high fever; and a strong, rapid pulse. He may complain of headache. The patient with heat exhaustion has a moist cool skin; pale face; and a temperature more nearly normal. He may faint. The victim of heat cramps, in addition to painful cramping of the abdomen or limbs, may have symptoms similar to heat exhaustion.

Treatment of heat conditions requires that the patient be removed to cooler surroundings and a doctor called immediately if the patient seems gravely ill. The heat stroke victim will need to be cooled off rapidly with cold packs, a cold bath, or wet sheets.

With a heart attack the patient may complain of pain, may seem to faint, or may have a hard time breathing. Pain under the breastbone may extend into the neck, the back, or either or both arms, or it may be felt only in the abdomen. Pain as a symptom of heart disease is seen almost altogether in people older than 35 years of age; in those younger, it usually can be traced to something else.

If the patient with suspected heart trouble feels better with his head propped up or sitting, keep him in that position. He should be encouraged to remain quiet. However, if he feels better walking, he probably isn't having a heart attack. Pain and fear of suffocating may make the heart victim nervous and apprehensive, and you should do what you can to calm him down. If he has medicine for an attack, give it to him.

A stroke is caused by a blood vessel in the brain breaking. High blood pressure probably is present. The patient is likely to be unconscious and paralyzed on one side, with mouth drawn to one side. One pupil may be larger than the other. The patient's pulse will be strong and slow, but breathing may be difficult. He should be laid on his back with head raised a little and kept warm. If he must be moved, great care should be taken to see that he doesn't exert himself.

With either a heart attack or a stroke, it is important to call a doctor right away.

WT Music Camp Will Feature Outstanding Choral, Band Men

A "West Texas Music Camp," with some of the nation's outstanding choral, band, and twirling authorities as instructors, has been planned for high school music students and teachers on the West Texas State College campus August 3-14. M. J. Newman, music department chairman, has announced.

The camp will feature such music lights as Jack Lee, University of Arizona band director who formerly was with the University of Michigan music department; Charles Bryan, Birmingham, Ala., composer, author, and folk-music artist, as director of choral work; Ted Otis, drum major in the movie "Stars and Stripes Forever," and six-time winner of the twirling contests of the Chicagoland Festival, as teacher of twirling; and Joe Berryman, nationally recognized percussion and band authority.

Dr. Houston Bright, Newman, and others of the music faculty at WT, will assist during the camp, which will feature primarily band and chorus work. Classes will also be offered in ensemble, theory, conducting, and a "squad-leaders" class designed to train band members to help directors with marching band drills, will also be offered.

While camp participants will be "living with music," with concerts, faculty and student recitals, and informal listening sessions, a recreational program of sports, dancing, picnics, and "amateur night shows" is being planned, Newman said.

Several courses, in connection with the camp, are being offered for graduate credit, including such

Ray Burrus braved a 35 mile sand-carrying wind to toss the discus 149 feet and 10 1/2 inches Saturday afternoon at the Border Conference Track and Field Meet in Abilene's McMurtry Stadium.

No new records were broken in the meet and Burrus' throw was second best in the meet. First place winner was John Henry Johnson of Arizona State College of Tempe. His distance was 151 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

Tempe took top honors in the meet and Arizona University was second. West Texas State was sixth in the meet with three points, those tallied by Ray Burrus. It was the highest score WTSC has racked up in the Border Conference Track and Field Meet for the past six years.

Five States Will Join To Fight Heart Disease

The Texas State Department of Health, after consideration by the Crippled Children's Advisory Committee, has been approved as sponsoring agency for a five-state regional congenital heart disease center to be operated with funds provided by the Children's Bureau, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, State Health Officer George W. Cox has announced.

Details of the program were outlined in a report from the Children's Bureau and the Dallas County Medical Society, many of whose members make up the staff of the Children's Medical Center in Dallas, where treatment will be given children admitted under terms of the program.

Five states—Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas—have been combined into a single region for convenience. Applications for admission of children to the Medical Center in Dallas will be accepted from all five states.

Children's Bureau officials said the Children's Medical Center in Dallas was selected as the treatment and diagnostic site for the five-state region because it has facilities for medical and surgical care for children with all types of heart disease, because of its geographical location in respect to the other states involved, and because the Dallas County Medical Society gave its approval and support to the program.

Upon approval of an admission application, the child will be admitted to care. The bills, including board and room for the parent while the child is in Dallas, will be paid with funds provided by the Children's Bureau.

Parents financially able to pay part of the cost are expected to do so, the plan states.

The plan pointed to the need for the program by declaring that congenital heart defects in children in southern states account for approximately 50 percent of all cardiac lesions.

Dr. Cox's announcement said objectives of the program were to "provide a mechanism whereby children in this area may have access to existing diagnostic and treatment facilities for congenital cardiac diseases, and to augment training facilities whereby young physicians may become intimately acquainted with the various aspects of this type of disease."

Piano Scholarship To Barbara Winters

Barbara Winters, 17-year-old student of Canyon High, played in a piano contest May 7 and won a scholarship for one year to Howard Payne College at Brownwood. The scholarship will give to her all academic work free.

Barbara can use the scholarship any time after graduating from high school. She is now enrolled in CHS as a junior. After a year's work at Brownwood, where she will take regular college courses but will be under a special pianistic study, she will compete in another contest, being given a chance to win another scholarship which would carry her further in Howard Payne College to study piano and finish her college work.

Barbara has been taking private piano lessons from Miss Lilly Larson, Amarillo, for 11 years, the entire period of her piano study. Barbara recently played in a piano contest at West Texas State College, winning a second plus rating.

At last he wrote to a school of Agriculture. He gave a list of all the remedies he had tried, and ended his epistle with: "What shall I do now?"

In due course came a reply: "We suggest you learn to love them."

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost . . .

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

Somebody threatened to lower the proverbial boom on our weekly drawings last week but finally decided to wait until the first of June. After that date your chance to draw $100 each Saturday may be gone with a complaint. Clay Cooper, chairman of the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce, held an emergency meeting, but the complainer didn't show up. After a couple of hours of general discussion the members of the committee left for their respective places of business.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Pettitt feel fairly sure now that they will not be molested by Indians without some advanced warning. Their dog simply doesn't like Indians, not even modern Americans dressed like Indians. Thursday night Maurice Teague, Bob Scout executive, did an Indian dance in native costume. After completing his Indian dance he stopped by the Pettitt's home for a cup of coffee. The dog wouldn't let him get out. Finally the dog was securely tied but he kept a close watch on Teague. If you have an Indian suit and decide to go spooking, better steer clear of the Pettitts, they have an effective alarm system.

One of the reasons why you can always talk about the weather is because it's the most changeable thing we have. Remember last Monday how cold it was. Then by Wednesday it was definitely summer time. So remember the old saying, "If you don't like the weather, just be patient, it'll change."

There was a three-way auto accident in Canyon last Wednesday. You've probably already heard about it. There was no one hurt seriously. It happened beneath the traffic light on the highway. It seems that two of the vehicles tied for first place in the race to the intersection and the third one was a victim of circumstances and got smacked while sitting still.

Although it wasn't quite clean-up, paint-up, fix-up week. Worth Jennings got the interior of his place all painted up last week. He started the job the week before and finished it last week. The place looks a lot nicer, but somebody may have some sore spots from the physical effort involved in getting the paint on.

One Canyon business man is upset about the manner in which some law breakers are treated. Many of these law breakers burglarize places as a business. They do it for a living and as long as they are free they will continue to burglarize business establishments. Some of them have been known to be free under as many as four different bonds. By letting these repeated offenders out on bond the law simply turns a criminal loose in the midst of the people. Our laws need to be brought out of the horse and buggy stage and advanced to the atomic or jet age. Whichever it is, we're living in.

Bus Routing Starts To Park Sunday

Two 39 passenger Continental Mainliner busses will be operated from Amarillo to and through Palo Duro Canyon, beginning Sunday. The service will continue through the summer.

The big air-conditioned busses will leave the two Amarillo stations, 405 Fillmore and the Continental Trailways Station at Seventh and Tyler at 10:30 in the morning and at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Stops will be made at the Panhandle-Plains Museum in Canyon and at various points of interest in the park. Each bus will make a complete tour of the park and persons riding the early morning bus may remain to return in the late afternoon if they desire.

"The demand for bus service to Palo Duro Canyon has grown steadily and it is our desire to accommodate everyone and especially the boys at the Amarillo Army Airfield," said John Heket, president. "We are going all out on this service this season so that everyone will have a means of transportation to and through the world's most colorful Canyon."

VFW-Auxiliary Plan Work on Grounds

A joint meeting of VFW and the Auxiliary was conducted Thursday night at the VFW Hall northwest of town. The women discussed selling the rest of the vanilla extract they have on hand. The men discussed the possibility of bringing in a water well on the Post and the addition of a kitchen, bathrooms, and a clubroom to the present building.

Several attempts have been made in the past to get water, but none of them has been successful.

In addition to the long-range plans of the club, the group also decided upon some ground improvements in the near future. A picnic luncheon will be provided by the Auxiliary Thursday. Part of the activities of the day will be some clean-up work on the grounds.

Members of the organization are rapidly getting the club grounds in order for spring and summer picnics. Two picnic tables have been completed along the creek and more will be finished in the near future. When the club gets its well the members plan to clear the creek of fish and stock it with game fish.

DUMMY COMES ALIVE

Baltimore, Md. — Pausing to look into the window of an army surplus store, Patrolman Ernest O'Connor shook his nightstick at a window dresser's mannequin. To his surprise, the mannequin flinched and the cop decided it was no mannequin at all. Sure enough, the dummy was Philip E. Shepperson, 28-year-old Negro, who pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary.

FIRST BRITON SHOT IN 1914 WAR DIES

Old Buckenham, England. — The first British soldier to be wounded in World War I, Capt. D. S. Jillings, Royal Air Force, recently died in England, at the age of 69. On the morning of August 22, Jillings, then a sergeant major, was hit when the reconnaissance plane in which he was riding came under infantry fire near Mons, Belgium.

BALL WRECKS WALL

Everett, Wash. — Believe it or not, but a bowling ball busted a wall in Ed Stregre's new home. Stregre, after putting the finishing touches on his new home, felt a little stiff in the muscles and so, picking up a bowling ball to limber up, took a practice swing. The ball slipped, went rocketing across the floor and now Stregre plans to repair a living room wall.

Safety Conscious

Safety conscious students have a better chance to stay alive while driving in Texas.

The average person is a reckless driver who is often involved in accidents. He has three to six seconds to make a decision before an accident occurs. The average driver waits until in danger of an accident before he realizes he must make a decision, thus resulting in an accident that may take someone's life or limbs.

The good driver is safety conscious and thinks ahead; anticipates accidents and tries to avoid them by thinking for the other driver as well as for himself. He doesn't take chances. He tries to estimate the consequences of carelessness.

"Every risk I take is calculated," said Jimmy Doolittle, famous stunt flier and instructor during both world wars. His daredevilry has amazed officers and civilians alike. Many gravity-defying tricks and maneuvers were worked out by Doolittle for the Air Force and Navy. There was no thought of recklessness while he was flying or wing walking. He knew his capabilities perfectly and acted within them.

A driver can be good, by learning his capabilities and acting within them. He can and must learn and observe all road signs, hand signals, speed limits, passing lanes, and learn the mechanisms of his automobile, just as Doolittle did with his airplanes.

Recklessness is indifference, lack of due caution, thoughtlessness, and carelessness. Recklessness is the cause of many lives lost each year. Safety consciousness is obeying all rules set by law, taking no chances, and calculation of risks. You're the driver, the average person. Choose what kind of driver you will be. Safety consciousness may save your life.

Why Take Chances?

Safety is, in a way, just using one's good common sense. Freak accidents do occur occasionally, but most of the time mishaps can be avoided if just a little cautious thinking is exerted before it is too late.

Since summer is just around the corner, most everyone will soon be having a lot of fun swimming, skating, going on hikes and picnics, and engaging in various other activities.

Now everyone wants to get a lot of attention and some people will do just about anything to get it. If you are one of those persons who has a talent for fancy skating, or swimming, or can hike and climb with complete safety, then you do not have much to worry you.

However, if you are not so good in these sports, then what is the sense in batting your brains out in trying to cut a fancy figure on skates when you can just barely make it around the rink without help? Or, if you are a poor swimmer, then why try to take a swan dive from the highest diving board?

If you get dizzy and afraid when in high places, why try to hike and climb higher than anyone else just to gain attention? Also, common sense tells one that a high wind can become powerful, especially if a person is balanced on a high, narrow ridge.

So why take chances? Look before you leap and think before you act and safety will become just a pleasant habit for you.

Well, howdy kids! How's every little thing today? Ol' Cal was a-prowlin' 'round in the "Tiger's Cage" the other day when he found this little poem.

"Tis sweet to court, but oh, how bitter,

To court a girl and then not get her.

When I was young I used to think

That boys were sweet as pie, But when I think of what I think I think I think a lie.

Face all shot, physique is bum, Got no hair, kind of dumb, Drives like mad, always late, But what the heck—

A DATE'S A DATE

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD:

Always race trains to crossing Engineers like it, it breaks the monotony.

Always pass the cars ahead on curves, don't use the horn, it may unnerve the drivers.

Demand half the road—the middle half. Insist on your rights.

Always speed. It shows you are full of pep, even though an amateur driver.

Don't waste time stopping, looking or listening. Everybody else does that.

Always lock your brakes when skidding. It makes the job seem more artistic.

In sloppy weather drive close to pedestrians. Dry cleaners appreciate this.

Always drive with your window closed. Then you don't have to signal.

Summer School Will Open June 1

The West Texas campus summer school, organized and operated by the Canyon public school system and West Texas State College, will begin with registration of participants June 1 and will close August 24, announced Rex Reeves, director, today. The school, which is fully accredited and operated under the agencies of the public school laws of Texas, is an annual affair, with emphasis placed upon college entrance preparation.

This year the following courses will be offered: English III and IV, American History, Civics, Algebra I and II, Plane Geometry, and Typing I and II. Other courses will be offered, however, if the demand is great enough to justify their being taught.

Elementary curriculum boasts an enriched program of extended education. A program is not intended to advance elementary pupils in actual grade school levels, but special help will be given all pupils who need directed work in reading, arithmetic, and spelling. Frequent use of films for study will aid in the program.

When requested by the superintendent of the home school, results will be furnished for children in the upper elementary grades which will reflect the educational ability of the child in the beginning and ending of the summer session.

Fees for elementary studies are $12.50 for each six weeks term; secondary fees will be $12.50 per one-half credit. Maximum units allowed during 12 weeks is 1½ credits. Recreation will consist of children's theatres, swimming, ball games, band work, and arts and crafts.

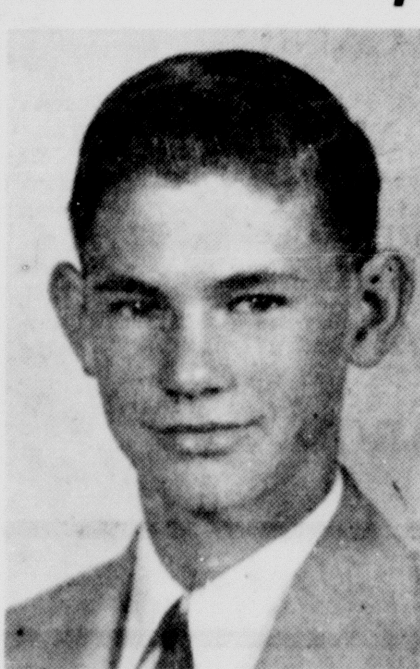

Revised editions of the Holy Bible, leather binding, $10; cloth binding, $6; at Warwick's. ff

The other selections by the band were "Hall of Fame," "Carousel," "Joshua," "King Cotton," "Till I Waltz Again With You," and "Blue Tango."

Spanish Coach Asks For Old Equipment

"Mr. Basketball Coach of Canyon High School, Canyon, Texas." A letter from Barcelona, Spain, bearing this address was received by Coach Murry on May 6.

The letter came from Ramon Melet Pinto, "a modest player and coachman of a young boy's basketball team from this city (Barcelona)." The writer described himself in that manner.

Ramon Pinto sent his letter in request of second hand basketball equipment that would be "unuseful" by us in America for the use of his team. He stated that, "In Barcelona city is impossible to obtain American Basketball items." In return he offers to send Coach Murry any "object" that he would like to have from Spain.

His closing sentence was, "With our sincerely salutations and sport partnership remains truly yours."

There is no logical reason why this letter should have been sent to CHS, since it is such a small school. However, three possibilities are these: Enrique Enquidanos from Valencia, Spain, was included in the Abilene Christian College Band which recently played in an assembly program in CHS. He may have had acquaintances in Barcelona and had something to do with the sending of the letter. The fact that Miss Marilyn A. Payne of CHS had corresponded with the Spanish Consul at Houston and also with the Mexican Consul at Amarillo regarding material sent to her from Spain, provides two more possibilities.

Opera Workshop Gives Opera Skit

Holmes Ambrose, director of the Opera Workshop at West Texas State, and five of his assistants, Peggy Williams, Mrs. H. R. Fulton, Jr., John Butler, Beverly Jo Nance, and Bill Rogers, gave a skit from the opera, "Così Fan Tutte" (Women Are Like That) last Wednesday in assembly held in the high school auditorium.

"Così Fan Tutte" is to be presented at the Education Theatre, May 12-13. Purpose of the skit was to let the student body know what to expect if they attend the opera.

Watson To Illinois Engineering Session

Joe Watson, junior, recently won a science scholarship for a five week study in the Engineering Division of the National High School Institute of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., for this summer.

This year the National High School Institute is offering scholarships in four different divisions: engineering, journalism, drama, and speech. Among the approximate 100 students having won scholarships under each division, Joe was one of the few who won in the engineering division from Texas.

Planning to be an electronic engineer, Joe has always been interested in science. He is a radio amateur and being a "ham" he is a radio-television technician at the Radio Appliance Store in Canyon.

Joe has taken every science course offered so far in his high school education. These courses include general science, biology, chemistry, and he has a high scholastic record in each. Joe states that he plans to study physics next year.

Upon being interviewed after winning the scholarship that Joe worked quite diligently for, he stated that he was really thrilled and truly appreciated the privilege of getting to go.

Hinders Identifies "Mystery" Farm

Louis G. Hinders was in last week to identify the mystery farm of last week as the one he is farming. It's the Irby Carruth place about ten miles southeast of town.

Hinders has been on the place about five years. During this time he has constructed trench silos and may add more to the place in the future. As an aid to soil conservation Louis believes the farmer should have more legumes with crops.

This particular farm has been under cultivation about 33 years, or since 1920. Mr. Hinders is doing everything possible to keep the soil productive. Of course the weather plays an important role in the most profitable crop, but the favorite livestock on the farm are Holsteins and Angus. The livestock feeding consists of native pasture, home grown ensilage, and sudan supplement. In the kind of crops on the farm Mr. Hinders described them as clover and hairy vetch every three years. Some insect control has been used and the livestock supplement used is 20 percent protein cubes.

Louis Hinders and Carolyn Black were married in 1947. Today they are the parents of two boys. Eddie is four years old and Mike is two. Louis belongs to the Farm Bureau, Holstein-Friesian Association, Randall County Dairy Herd Improvement Association. As a family they belong to the Finesse Bridge Club, Schooner Club, and the First Christian Church.

Louis says he has been reading The Canyon News for six years. He's a cover-to-cover reader and enjoys the front page, the column "Between You, Me and the Gatepost," the editorials, and The Eagle's Tale.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM your State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—The Legislature worked this week on compromise bills to give public school teachers more pay.

Those who wanted more money for teachers seemed ready to accept something less than the $600 per year they had originally demanded.

The House lagged behind in committee action on new tax bills to provide the money for teachers.

It would take about $33 million per year to give the school people an additional $600 annually.

At the same time, the administration kept up its pressure against new taxation.

The Governor asked the legislature to wait and see what would become of a natural gas tax, passed during the last session and being tested in the courts.

Meanwhile, the State supreme court declared the tax valid. But the issue was not finally settled. The gas companies could appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Representative Douglas E. Bergman of Dallas suggested that teacher pay be hiked $306 per year, starting next September, if the state wins its fight for the natural gas tax.

Representative D. H. Buchanan of Longview wanted to pass a new tax on natural gas, to bring in $15 million per year for teachers. This tax would become invalid if the present tax is found to be constitutional.

And Representative Lamar Zivley of Temple recommended financing a $360 per year raise for teachers with a tax on natural gas.

There was strength behind movements to adjourn the session — without any new tax. That would mean no pay increase for teachers.

Although both houses have voted $600 per year pay raises for schoolmarm, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has said that the money is not in sight to pay the cost.

That means no more money for teachers, unless a tax bill is passed.

Even so, the Senate has signified that it is ready to quit and go home.

And in the House, at week's end, it seemed likely that the sine die adjournment would come during the week of May 25.

The session passed its 120th day Tuesday, and the pay of legislators automatically dropped from $10 per day to $5 per day.

The House passed on second reading a bill to change the Gilmer Aiken minimum foundation fund by revising the economic index annually, instead of every four years.

Under the bill, no district's dues can be changed more than 10 per cent in any one year.

The annual $45 million contribution of all districts would remain the same.

After a 26-hour filibuster, the Senate finally passed a bill to create a state-wide toll road authority.

As originally passed in the House, the bill created a Dallas-Fort Worth turnpike authority. The bill went back to the House for approval of Senate amendments.

Dead or dying was a bill to tighten regulation over the practice of optometry.

A motion in the Senate to suspend rules and bring the bill up for debate failed of the necessary two-thirds majority.

Other measures also became lost causes, unless the Legislature should hang on for a long session.

The Senate passed, 17 to 13, a proposed constitutional amendment that would boost the salaries of legislators from $10 to $25 per day.

But the vote was insufficient to give the resolution, already passed by the House, final approval.

Senator George Parkhouse of Dallas lacked two votes to bring up the Ford bill — one that would prohibit payment of unemployment benefits to union members off the job in one plant of a corporation because of a strike in another plant of the same corporation.

This one is called the Ford bill because the Ford plant at Dallas closed because of a strike at another Ford plant.

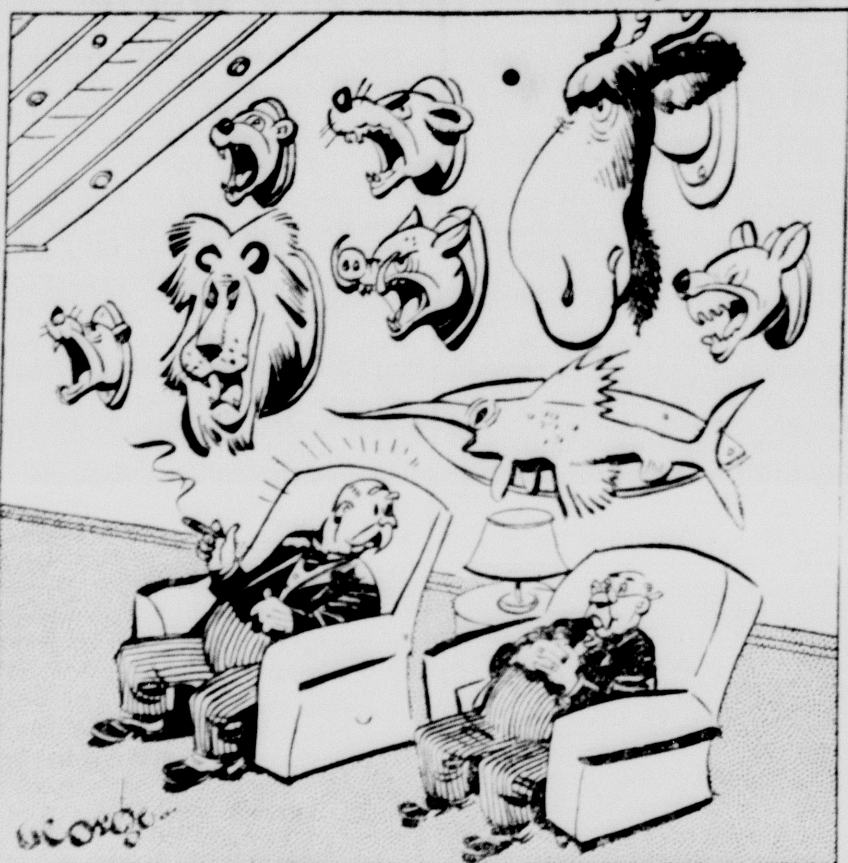

A so-called loan shark bill took a rugged punch in the House, but refused to lie down and be counted out.

The bill, by Representative Reagan R. Huffman of Marshall, would authorize courts to assess jail sentences against any lender whose charges exceed 36 per cent.

Huffman asked the House to

"By Jove! I could have sworn I heard a growl!"

order a report on the bill from the judiciary committee.

The motion failed. Thereupon, Representative Ben Atwell of Dallas, head of a subcommittee studying the bill, set about to revise it.

The subcommittee's report promised a report to the full committee next Tuesday.

Atwell said his proposal would require all lenders to be licensed by the State Banking Commission, but would not limit charges.

The House passed a bill requiring cities to hold, when petitioned, an election on reducing the work week of police and firemen.

As amended the election would be held at the next city election, general or special. Originally, the bill called for the election to be held within 90 days after submission of the petition, which would have to carry the names of 25 per cent of those who voted in the last preceding election.

Official public business should be conducted publicly, according to a resolution passed by the House. The Senate had already passed the measure.

The affairs of the federal government, the states, counties and cities were included in the resolution.

Representative H. A. (Salty) Hull of Fort Worth said, while discussing an amendment, that, "I think there are certain instances — and I think the press recognizes it — when committees may need privacy."

Executive sessions are customary in certain instances, such as, for example, when the Senate is considering whether or not to approve appointments made by the Governor.

During the present session, legislators closed the doors to reporters while considering the general appropriations bill.

Representative Horace B. Houston, Jr., of Dallas added his name to the list of candidates for Speaker of the House at the next session.

Houston said he had withheld his announcement until late in the present session because he wanted the House to get its main work done before turning attention to the speaker's race.

Prospective candidates for Speaker, in addition to Houston, include Representatives Jim T. Lindsey of Texarkana, Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, Joe Pyle of Fort Worth and Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde.

SHORT SNORTS: The House approved and sent to the Senate a bill that would increase the automobile travel expense of state employees from six to seven cents a mile.

The House also voted to outlaw cross-filing by political candidates — that is, running as candidate of more than one party.

posed constitutional amendment to permit Texas members of the armed services to vote. A conference committee will have to adjust the differences before the measure can be finally passed.

Narrow Gauge Railroad Is Being Established in Palo Duro Park

Work is underway on the right-of-way for a narrow gauge scenic railway in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Tentative name is Palo Duro Canyon, Burlington and Texas Western Railroad. More than 60 tons of rails, ties and other equipment has been received and more is to follow.

The scenic railroad will have a capacity of 72 adults. Powered by a big Chrysler engine, the locomotive is modeled up as Casey Jones' Famous Old No. 97. The route starts near Triassic Peak and winds up toward El Coronado Lodge, giving views not hitherto available except by long hikes or horseback of the Sad Monkey, Spanish Skirts, Catrino Cave, Mesa Mecca, Christmas Tree Canyon, and the old Good-night entrance route into the Canyon.

The railroad is being installed and operated by Harold E. Grear and associate, James M. Bailey of Herrin, Illinois. The train, one of a few such scenic trains in the country, has been operated for the past three years at Herrin. Mr. Grear is a member of a pioneer family of newspaper publishers. Prior to World War II Mr. Grear was managing editor of the Herrin Daily Journal. After the war he was in the wholesale and outdoor theatre business. Mr. Bailey was production superintendent for a large manufacturing plant there.

Engineers and officials of the Texas State Parks Board cooperated in selecting a route where the right-of-way in no way marred the beauty of the Canyon. The route has no more than 3 per cent grade and was routed around picturesque trees, rocks and other formations. Formal of the two mile ride will be the latter part of May. It will be publicized as a major tourist attraction.

Mr. Grear in seeking a Texas location for his train was asked to inspect Palo Duro Canyon as the most logical site for such an attraction. He completed his contract with the Concessionaire, John L. McCarty, in April and the survey on the route began last week. Officials of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway are aiding in an advisory capacity.

It is believed the scenic ride will be a big factor in further increasing the attendance at the World's Most Colorful Canyon which in the past two years drew more out of state cars and more paid attendance than any other State or National park in Texas.

"Undoubtedly, there will be no scenic ride in America that can compare with this route in beauty and color," said Mr. Grear. "The public acceptance of this gorgeous ride will attract national attention."

MORTGAGE DEBTS

Americans owe $82,000,000,000 on mortgages, installment purchases and other short-term debts, as compared with $72,000,000,000 a year ago, and $24,000,000,000 at the end of World War II, according to the Commerce Department. The current volume of consumer mortgage and short-term credit is equivalent to about 35 per cent of the $245,000,000,000 consumers have for spending a year, after paying taxes.

WARWICK'S

BY LYNDON B. JOHNSON

A plan to reorganize the Department of Agriculture was sent to Congress by the President on March 25. Under the law, this plan will take effect automatically after 60 days unless disapproved by either House of Congress.

Senator Dick Russell of Georgia, one of the best friends the farmer has in Congress, has introduced a resolution of disapproval. If resolution is passed by the Senate, the proposed reorganization plan will be dead.

Committee hearings on both the reorganization plan and Senator Russell's resolution of disapproval have been set for May 12.

Farm Prices

Letters from Texas indicate that many farmers are becoming increasingly concerned about the Administration's attitude toward rural electrification, soil conservation programs, and other matters affecting agriculture.

It seems to me that too many of the new men brought into the Government have big business backgrounds — and too few possess knowledge of the problems facing the farmers. We have plenty of suggestions about how to raise farmers' interest rates — and too few about how to lower his costs. Prices of things the farmer buys keep going up — and prices of things he sells keep going down.

If the farmers get in a bad pinch, all of us will be very seriously affected. Helping to keep agriculture prosperous is a rightful concern of the Government.

Upstream Flood Prevention

The idea of a Federal program for upstream flood prevention seems to be catching on. Early in this session, Congressman Bob Poage introduced in the House and I introduced in the Senate companion bills to authorize a broad program of soil and water conservation in upstream areas.

Last week a spokesman for the Agriculture Department told the House Agriculture Committee there is "need to give greater emphasis to conservation and productive use of water high up on the watershed lands." Congressman Clifford R. Hope, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, favors such a program.

Tidelands

By the time you read this, the Senate will have passed the tidelands bill. It is good to know that Texas has won this long fight.

During the lengthy speech by Senator Morse, an opponent of the legislation, I found out how it feels to spend the night in the Senate Chamber with only two other Senators on the floor and half a dozen spectators in the gallery.

News Briefs

Texans who hold Star Route contracts with the Postoffice had better start thinking about other jobs. Star Route setup is being thoroughly shuffled around — to "improve service," of course.

Attended a small dinner Saturday night at the White House, given by the President and Mrs. Eisenhower. Their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, and Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, Mrs. J. S. Doud, were present. Anybody would be proud to have Mrs. Doud for his mother, and the young Mrs. Eisenhower would make anyone an ideal sister.

Fritz Lanham, former Congressman, from Fort Worth, spoke at our Texas State Society meeting. Best San Jacinto Day speech I ever heard. . . . President Eisenhower, who spoke later, said he received great inspiration from it. The President joked me by saying he didn't see how I could listen to any more speeches, after hearing Senator Morse's all-night address in the Senate.

What Makes One Job Better Than Another?

What if the tables were turned . . . and college graduates stopped filling out job applications, and instead, submitted questionnaires for companies to fill out? It might be they would ask:

"Why should I work for your company? . . . Is your bank balance healthy? . . . Are you expanding fast? . . . Will I get responsibility in a hurry? . . . Can I pick the type of work I like? . . . Are you fun to work with? . . . Do you have smart men I can learn from? . . . Free schooling to train me further? . . . Research and know-how? . . . Money for the finest equipment? . . . Will you recognize and utilize my talents?"

Isn't it a sign of a pretty good job when young men with talent can have a clear road ahead, can learn from people they respect and admire, and can work on projects of national importance?

From where we sit, we've been watching this happen. Teams of people at General Electric—in their twenties most often—are solving problems of jet plane engines, new chemicals, home appliances, guided missiles . . . everything from atomic power to air conditioning. And they're working in responsible jobs, with experts of recognized authority.

Maybe it's because we're growing fast that young men move into new and bigger jobs. Or because we've been lucky enough to hire the type of men who grab responsibility and work hard to achieve success. Whatever single factor or combination it is, young men and success do go together at General Electric.
